White House to Display Consumers' Blue Eagle

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Like many another American home, the White House soon will be displaying the consumers' Blue Eagle.

The consumers' Eagle goes to those who sign the statement: "I will cooperate in re-employment by supporting and patronizing employers and workers who are members of the NRA."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Blue Eagle of the NRA was revealed today by Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, as a high-pressure bird intended to bring within the scope of wage and hour agreements employers not reachable by federal law.

Touching at his press conference upon one of the first obstacles laid before him—the question of whether strictly intra-State businesses (those confined to one State) could be compelled to adopt codes, Johnson said "it is probably true that a purely
